

Andrew W. Repak – Director, Virginia Distribution Center
(CPA, CMA, CFM, VCO)

Andy Repak is the Director of the Virginia Distribution Center (VDC), a bureau within the Department of General Services' Division of Purchases & Supply. His current job involves responsibility for the $30 Million internal service fund operation to include customer service, marketing, personnel, accounting, information systems, cooperative procurement, quality assurance testing, warehousing, inventory control, distribution, and security.

Previously, Andy served as the Assistant Director and the Systems Administrator for the VDC. Prior to that, he held a variety of positions to include auditor for the Office of the Inspector General, Department of Defense; public accountant; internal auditor for Crestar Bank; and internal auditor for the Department of General Services. He received his B.A. in Accounting from the Virginia Commonwealth University and later attended graduate school there. He has earned several Creative Problem Solving and Making A Difference awards, a Strategic Excellence award, and an Outstanding Supervisor award.